The evening of 26 October was dedicated entirely to award-winning creative achievements: During the glamorous award ceremony for the Red Dot Award: Communication Design 2018, the competition winners were celebrated in the Konzerthaus Berlin in Germany. Design professionals and talents, agency heads and company representatives from 40 countries accepted their deserved trophies before a full house. There were plenty of emotional and surprising moments, including in particular the awarding of seven "Red Dot: Grand Prix" awards, the newcomer's prize and the title of honour "Red Dot: Agency of the Year". At the subsequent Designers' Night in ewerk Berlin, the laureates and the guests partied into the early hours and had a chance to see the design quality of the winning projects in the exhibition "Design on Stage".

0.7% of the entries received the Red Dot: Best of the Best

Out of the 8,610 works entered by designers, agencies and companies, the 24 jury members selected the winners of the Red Dot Award: Communication Design 2018 during an adjudication process that lasted several days. the competition can be awarded to especially outstanding works, the best in each category, at the discretion of the jurors. Seven communication design projects won over the experts with their exceptional design quality and creativity in 2018.

These include the corporate design "Forza Football", which Kazakoff Design from Stockholm created for the football app Forza Football. Another winner of a Red Dot: Grand Prix was Banda Agency from Kiev for the brand design "OKKO" by the Ukrainian chain of service stations of the same name. The online film "Everyone is equal. No one is more equal." by thjnk Zurich, created for Pro Infirmis, a specialist organisation for people with disabilities, was a big hit with the experts thanks to its design quality. Another Red Dot: Grand Prix went to the packaging design "ed'o Olive Oil – DELUXE Pairing Edition". The design stems from Taller Design in Gothenburg and Mediactiu in Barcelona for Spanish gourmet food trader Selective Export.

The online platform "zeitzeugen-portal.de Erzählen. Erinnern. Entdecken." ("Contemporary Witness Portal") also got the sought-after award, which went to Markwald Neusitzer Identity from Frankfurt and Düsseldorf and to the Bonn-based Haus der Geschichte der Bundesrepublik Deutschland Foundation. The book "Unter den Brücken" ("Beneath the Bridges") by the Austrian Atelier Oczlon also stood out from among the entries to garner a Red Dot: Grand Prix. The typeface "Le Murmure" by and for Parisian agency Murmure also emerged as the best piece of work in the "Typography" category.

Tom Hegen scoops the Red Dot: Junior Prize and 10,000 Euros

The best project by an up-and-coming designer was recognised with the Red Dot: Junior Prize. In 2018, the award and the prize money of 10,000 Euros went to the coffee-table book "HABITAT – Vom Mensch geprägte Lebensräume" by Tom Hegen. The photo book shows how humans change their natural habitats and visualises these changes in aerial photographs supplemented with relevant facts and infographics. "HABITAT" thus invites the observer to discover his or her environment from a different perspective. The jury praised the impressive photography and the powerful concept.
