Red Dot Design Museum Essen: 2,000 inspirational exhibits at your fingertips

The best product design, from inventive USB flash drive to multifunctional stove to a hanging helicopter, awarded by an international expert jury: On five floors, the Red Dot Design Museum Essen in Germany presents the largest exhibition of contemporary design worldwide.

All of the approximately 2,000 shown exhibits were awarded in the well-known Red Dot Design Award. On average, 150,000 visitors per year see the shapely and highly innovative exhibits. The museum becomes experienceable as touching and testing most of the objects is allowed.

Every year, design experts from all over the world decide which products will be on display in the Red Dot Design Museum. They make up the jury for one of the world's most important product competitions: the Red Dot Award: Product Design. In the course of long sessions, they test and discuss the products, assess their innovative design quality based on different criteria depending on their task and purpose, and ultimately decide which have earned the Red Dot seal of quality and thus a place in the museum.

The inspiring atmosphere of the house is exuded mainly by its impressive architecture. Built between 1928 and 1929, the former boiler house of the colliery Zeche Zollverein served for many years as the power house for the complex, which was abandoned in 1986. The Zeche Zollverein Coal Mine Industrial Complex is one of the most significant industrial monuments of the 20th century and was thus listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 2001.

The boiler house, which today presents the international winners of the product design contest, had to be converted according to its new function as the Red Dot Design Museum. Red Dot founder Prof. Dr. Peter Zec suggested Lord Norman Foster for the new direction of the architectural characteristics. With his distinctive, yet gentle reconstruction, the well-known British architect created a concise style for the entire Zeche Zollverein.

To provide another exclusive venue for the design scene and its creative works, the Red Dot Design Museum Singapore opened its doors in November 2005, being the first contemporary design museum in Singapore and in Asia. Today, it presents the latest trends in the international design scene with a selection of prize-winning design concepts and prototypes.

In 2018, another museum was opened in China, the Red Dot Design Museum Xiamen. The new venue is situated in the rebuilt Terminal 2 of Xiamen Gaoqi Airport, covering an area of 10,000 square meters. It is mainly composed of an exhibition space, the co-working space "Space", a design school and a design library. Spreading two floors, the Red Dot Design Museum Xiamen covers 4,500 square meters of exhibition area, featuring Red Dot award-winning designs from across the globe. What makes the latest Red Dot exhibition space so special is the fact that it is the only Red Dot Design Museum that unites prize-winning designs from all three competitions of the Red Dot Award, namely from the Red Dot Award: Product Design, Red Dot Award: Brands and Communication Design and Red Dot Award: Design Concept.
